Sustainability – Reflecting Well on Your Corporate Image

Glenelg Golf Club aim to achieve a 100% recycled water rating for the course in 2010, recognising the importance of sustainability. Our 1.4 hectare wetlands system is home to more than 50,000 native plants.

The project is being successfully managed by our course maintenance team, and overseen by the State Government's Natural Resource Management Board. Funding has been evenly split between the Federal and State Governments, and the Club.

In addition to this, the Club has commenced a re-vegetation project, identifying areas for extensive native plantings as well as selected pine tree plantings.

In our commitment to maintaining original landforms and characteristics, we've restored natural sand dunes. The revetted edge bunker, unique to South Australia, is revolutionary in eliminating sand erosion caused by wind and adds an extra challenge for golfers.

With a Corporate event at Glenelg Golf Club, you can be guaranteed that you are aligning with a Club that places huge priority on the natural environment.
